

LUMS

A Not-for-Profit University

Convocation 2021

#thefuturewaits

THE UNIVERSITY

LUMS is a national not-for-profit university, established by sponsors belonging to the country's leading private and public sector corporations. The goal of the sponsors was to develop an institution that would provide rigorous academic and intellectual training and be a feasible alternative to leading universities abroad. The National Management Foundation, the sponsoring body of the University, was incorporated in November 1984 and was granted a charter by the Government of Pakistan in March 1985, with the President of Pakistan being designated the role of the University's Chancellor. Through this charter, the University was given the legal right to establish degree-granting programmes.

The Board of Trustees, the policymaking body of the University, comprises leading members of the business community, academia and representatives of the Government. The principal functions of the Board are to set broad policy guidelines and to review the operations of the University. The Board of Governors, being the sponsors of LUMS, raise the necessary funds for the University's operations and maintenance. Many board members are representatives of the business community and form a crucial link between the University and the industry.

In 1986, LUMS launched its business school with a world-class MBA programme; the school was renamed as the Suleman Dawood School of Business (SDSB) in 2004. In 1994, LUMS started a BSc Honours programme in economics and computer science. Over subsequent years, the University evolved to include more specialisations. In 1999-2000, the School of Arts and Sciences (SoAS) was formed to oversee the undergraduate programmes at LUMS. Later on, graduate programmes in economics, computer science and computer engineering were also added, followed by the launch of doctoral programmes in computer science, computer engineering (later changed to electrical engineering) and mathematics. In addition, a Bachelor's programme in two majors: accounting and finance, and management science, a PhD programme in management and an executive MBA programme were added to the programmes offered by SDSB. In 2002, a five-year, integrated, BA-LL.B degree was also included to the list of programmes offered by SoAS.

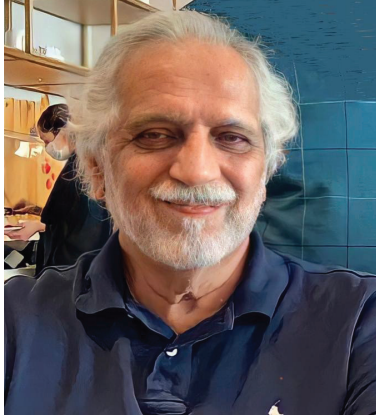

As the programmes and departments expanded, it became apparent that the scope and diversity of the programmes offered by SoAS demanded more meaningful division and focus. Hence, in 2006, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences was established which was later renamed as the School of Humanities, Social Sciences and Law (SHSSL) in 2008 that oversaw the Social Sciences, Economics and Law Departments. The School of Science and Engineering (SSE) was launched in 2008 to oversee the departments of mathematics, computer science, physics, chemistry, biology and electrical engineering. Both schools have been renamed as Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani School of Humanities and Social Sciences (MGSHSS) and Syed Babar Ali School of Science and Engineering (SBASSE), respectively. A fourth school, Shaikh Ahmad Hassan School of Law (SAHSOL) was launched in 2013. Approved by the Board of Trustees in 2017, the Syed Ahsan Ali and Syed Maratib Ali School of Education (SOE) was established, offering a full-time MPhil Education Leadership and Management degree and a minor in education. An Executive MPhil Education Leadership and Management is due to start this September.

In 2020-21, SDSB further expanded its portfolio by launching six new Master of Science programmes, fulfilling sectoral needs for specialist graduates in business in Pakistan and the region. These new programmes are MS Healthcare Management and Innovation; MS Technology Management and Entrepreneurship; MS Business and Public Policy; MS Financial Management; MS Accounting and Analytics and MS Supply Chain and Retail Management. In the same year, MGSHSS also launched a new minor, Gender and Sexuality Studies.
